Chairman of the Broadcasting Commission (BCJ), Professor Anthony Clayton and Cordel Green, Executive Director, met today with Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), Ajit Pai, in Mexico City. They discussed a range of matters of mutual interest including access to cable channels, and the future of media and regulatory principles for the digital economy and society.

They are in attendance at the International Institute of Communications (IIC) International Regulators' Forum (IRF) and 49th Annual Conference. Professor Clayton was one of the featured speakers on the panel "Connectivity and Sustainability: Closing the Digital Exclusion Gap/Meeting SDGs." Chairman Pai was keynote speaker at the opening of the conference this morning. The BCJ Executive Director is also a speaker at the annual conference.

The Broadcasting Commission is the media and content regulator for Jamaica. Its mission is to ensure a successful national transition to a digital economy, using the empowering and liberating potential of technological innovation to encourage new forms of business, social, cultural and media development while protecting the people of Jamaica from potential abuses of communication and influence.
